

Global Literacy: Diversity in People and in our Minds

How does globalization impact you?

Why are professionals in several industries using this program everyday?

Join us to find out—attend some or all of the following:

Friday July 25th, 9 AM to 12 PM

Essential 1: Entertaining Multiple and Conflicting Viewpoints: Hinduism

Friday August 1st, 9 AM to 12 PM

Essential 2: Missing the Big Picture: Buddhism

Friday August 8th, 9 AM to 12 PM

Essential 3: Viewing Issues—Imposing our Perspectives: Judaism

Friday August 15th, 9 AM to 12 PM

Essential 4: Overcoming the Resistance to Change and Resolve Issues: Christianity

Friday August 22nd, 9 AM to 12 PM

Essential 5: Discounting Rumors, Hearsay: Islam

Friday August 29th, 9 AM to 12 PM

Essential 6: Overcoming the Knee-Jerk Response: Animism

*Certification

Participate in the entire series and receive a certificate in global literacy and conflict resolution.

Who Should Attend

Professionals from all levels and departments: it works.

Why Attend

We work in a global environment everyday: understand the people you work with. More importantly, understand why you think and behave the way you do.

About Minerva

Minerva's research targets skills required in today's changing workforce. The company services a variety of industries in areas including Leadership, Sales, Change Management, Diversity, Writing, and others. Visit www.minervainfinity.com to learn more.

What People Say: On Change and Conflict Management

“These classes make you stop and think about how you are programmed to react to certain situations. I now realize that I need to take a step back before reacting to a situation.”

“I identify multiple solutions to a problem or different approaches to pick and then select the best.”

“People who had been more difficult or challenging to deal with before have become more open and receptive because of this training.”

On Interpersonal Relations

“I will think more about including all people so no one feels like the ‘other’ or the ‘outsider’.”

“Your information helped dispel many myths and misconceptions I held about people.”

On Working in the Global and Local Space

“Working in the global environment requires confronting your assumptions about people: you can’t do this unless you’ve learned about different ways of thinking to go beyond the assumptions.”

“There were many of us who thought we were worldly because we remembered to be sensitive to other cultures, but these classes gave us meaning to sensitivity by teaching us how to think in multiple ways.”

Cost—Special Summer Rate for Not For Profit Only

$100 per session ($500 for the series)

2 for 1 special in effect through July 21st: send two individuals for the price of one!!

Volume Discounts Apply

Location

Calspan Corporation, Building 6 (opposite the airport)
4455 Genesee Street, Buffalo, NY 14225

To Register:

Contact Preethi Govindaraj at pgovindaraj@minervainfinity.com or 716-553-7453.